Clouds

By Christina Rossetti

White sheep, white sheep,
On a blue hill,
When the wind stops,
You all stand still.
When the wind blows,
You walk away slow.
White sheep, white sheep,
Where do you go?

Smile

By Swetha Vangaveti

The smile that decorated my cheeks when you see me;
Does anyone know where the smile has come from?
Yes ! There is a rumour that a pearly white cloud tried to hide the little black spot in the dazzling moon.
There the smile was first born.
You brought that smile down to the earth to adorn my cheeks.
Let my smile touch your feet.

Magic

By David Harris

Magic is a word that conjures up things in our mind, all sorts of magician tricks.
Magic is much more than that,
more than being deceived,
just look around you and see all the magic there is around you for everyone to enjoy and see.

The waking of a flower as the dawn creeps across the sky.
The first sound of a new born babe as it gives out its first cry.
These are not magician tricks,
but the magic of our world and if we look more closely the world is filled with magic for all to see.
